The WV State 911 Conference 2020 has been rescheduled!

We will continue to closely monitor the updates as information comes available due to COVID-19. We have established Extra Precautionary Safeguards to be put in place to ensure the safety of our guests.

Precautionary health screenings will be conducted at conference check-in and periodically throughout the event to further protect our attendees, volunteers, and staff. The conference venue has ensured the success of a clean environment for our stay and continued monitoring of their staff and the venue. We will also limit attendance to each classroom setting and conduct repeat courses as necessary for all attendees to achieve full access.

As we continue to closely monitor impacts that could potentially become concerning, we will take all necessary steps to safeguard and alert our staff, attendees, and guests of any pending changes pertaining to our conference. The health, safety and welfare of our attendees is our biggest regard, and we will ensure the appropriate measures are being taken to alleviate any concerns.

In the event the 2020 conference is cancelled - we will issue full refunds to attendees.

Virtual Conference Access

This year we have made available, “Virtual Access” for attendees that prefer to join our conference in the comfort of their own home or office.

We understand the stress & uncertainty that can be experienced during these unprecedented times – and we want to make available every opportunity for attendees to receive high quality, reliable, safe access to our event!

Individual registered attendees will receive CE Credit Certificates for their attendance for each virtual access session, that can be used for their recertification needs. All offered conference courses will be available via Virtual Access.
